

	(Refugee) Travel Document	(HP or DLTR) Certificate of Travel
Eligibility	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • you have refugee status, or • you came to UK on a Family Reunion visa to join someone who has refugee status 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • you have permission to stay (known as 'leave to remain') or are settled in the UK (known as 'indefinite leave to remain'), and you have been refused a passport or travel document by your country's national authorities • you are in the UK with humanitarian protection and it's been officially accepted you have a fear of your country's national authorities as part of your asylum application • you are in the UK on a family reunion visa because you've joined someone who has humanitarian protection • you were born in the UK as the child of someone with refugee status and you have permission to stay but do not have refugee status yourself • you have an important reason to travel and your country's national authorities are unable to issue you with a passport or emergency travel document quickly
Your Leave	You must have at least 6 months left on your Leave to Remain, otherwise you must wait until you have Indefinite Leave to Remain	You must have at least 6 months left on your Leave to Remain, otherwise you must wait until you have Indefinite Leave to Remain
Countries you can travel to	You can usually travel to all countries except: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the country you're from • any country you sought asylum from 	You can usually travel to most countries with a certificate of travel. If you have been given humanitarian protection because it's been accepted you have a fear of a country's national authorities, you cannot travel to that country.
Before you travel	Check which documents you'll need before you book your travel. Ask the authorities of the country you're visiting or travelling through if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the country accepts refugee travel documents • you need a visa to enter the country 	Check which documents you'll need before you book your travel. Ask the authorities of the country you're visiting or travelling through if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the country accepts certificates of travel • you need a visa to enter the country
Travel Document valid for	Up to 5 years if you have Leave to Remain, 10 years if you have Indefinite Leave to Remain.	Up to 5 years with Indefinite Leave to Remain, or for the remainder of your permission to stay
Application fee	£82/adult, £53/child under 15 (fees increased on 04/10/2023)	£280/adult, £141/child under 15